The 1930 Appalachian

VOLUME NINE

PUBLISHED BY THE

SENIOR CLASS

OF

CARSON AND NEWMAN COLLEGE

JEFFERSON CITY
TENNESSEE

Dedication

TO THE

MOTHERS

AND

FATHERS

of the Class of 1930, whose unselfish spirit of love and devotion and whose prayers, sacrifices, and hopes for us have made the way beautiful, we lovingly dedicate the Appalachian of 1930

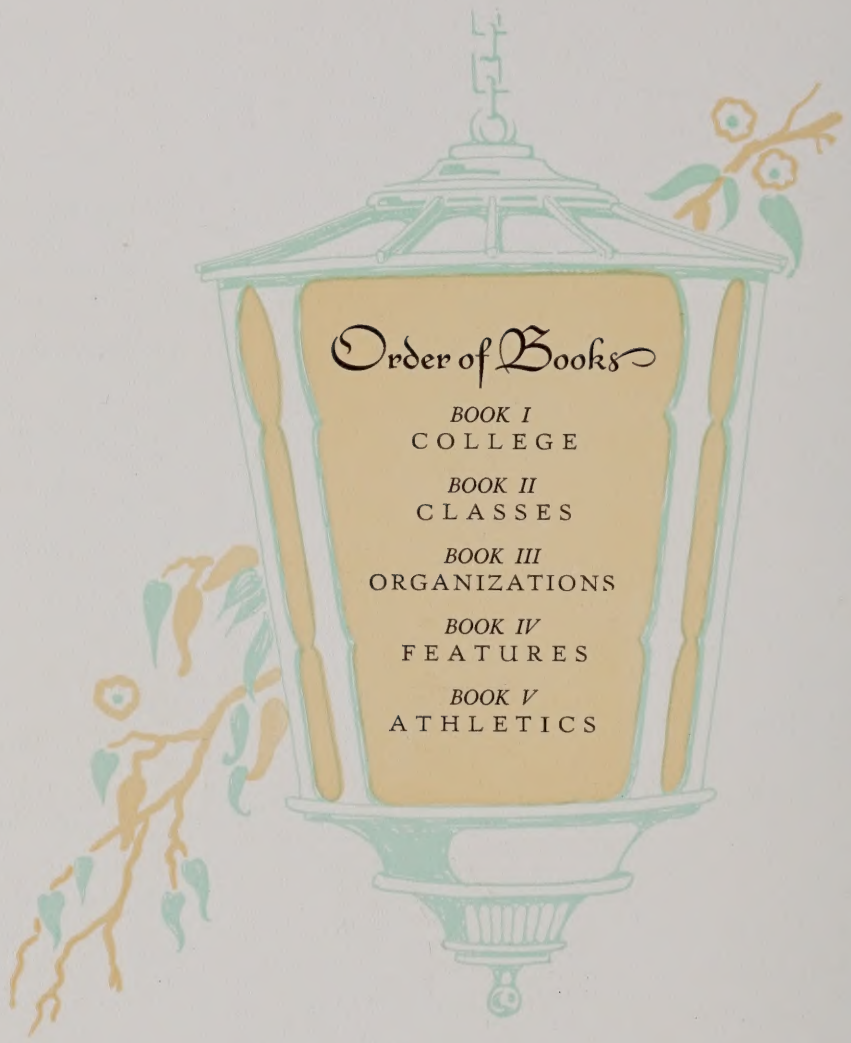

Foreword

Dear pilgrims, when your quest has led you far along the Trail of Life, may you rest as the twilight falls, and, turning the pages of of this volume, may your soul be uplifted by sweet recollections of the Land of Long Ago in your Garden of Memories!

How happy is he born and taught
That serveth not another's will;
Whose armor is his honest thought,
And simple truth his utmost skill!

Whose passions not his masters are;
Whose soul is still prepared for death,
Untied unto the world by care
Of public fame or private breath;

Who envies none that chance doth raise,
Nor vice; who never understood
How deepest wounds are given by praise;
Nor rules of state, but rules of good;

Who hath his life from rumors freed;
Whose conscience is his strong retreat;
Whose state can neither flatterers feed,
Nor ruin make oppressors great;

Who God doth late and early pray
More of his grace than gifts to lend;
And entertains the harmless day
With a religious book or friend;

—This man is freed from servile bands
Of hope to rise or fear to fall;
Lord of himself, though not of lands,
And having nothing, yet hath all.

—SIR HENRY WOTTON

COLLEGE

BOOK I

"A little learning is a dangerous thing;
Drink deep or taste not of the Pierian spring."

"Dull would he be of soul who could pass by
A sight so touching in its majesty."

"These shady paths are well content,
To lead us unto knowledge and to health."

"There architecture's noble pride,
Bids elegance and splendor rise."

"Walls too young to grow much ivy,
But containers of jubilant life."

"Thy daughters bright thy walks adorn,
Gay as the gilded summer sky."

"The glory of young men is their strength
Be thou strong, therefore, and show thyself a man."

"Here plots of sparkling water tremble bright
With thousand thousand twinkling points of light."

"Our meeting, though happy, was tinged by a sorrow,
To think that such happiness could not remain;
While our parting, though sad, gave a hope that tomorrow
Would bring back the bless'd hour of meeting again."

In Memory

JAMES ALBERT CARTER, JR.

August 11, 1908—June 27, 1929

"Nick" found joy in living. Though he walked among us for only a brief while, his sunny smile and his happy disposition gave him the happy faculty of making many friends. Earnestly and faithfully he prepared for a life of usefulness, but when God in His infinite wisdom called him to that fuller and richer life "Nick" was ready. The snows of premature death have taken from us a man and a friend.

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!"

PROF. E. W. SYDNOR

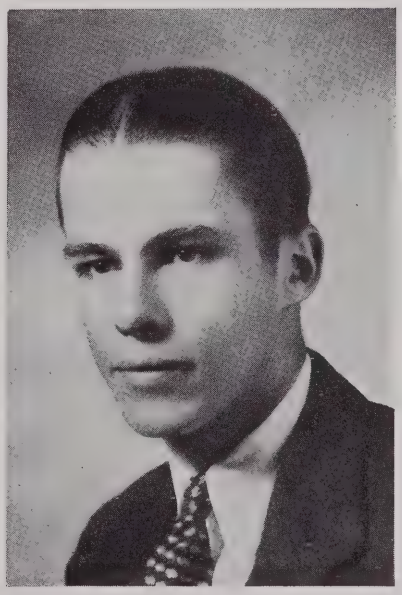

FORENSIC COACH

Professor Sydnor is due much credit for the enviable position that Carson-Newman has held in the fields of debating and oratory during the past twelve years. His guidance and leadership has been missed much this year, during which time he has pursued graduate work at Duke University.

O. E. BRYAN, JR.

COLLEGE ORATOR

With an excellent oration, "If America Fails," Mr. Bryan has won his laurels as college orator, and the student body is counting on him to reflect credit upon himself and his Alma Mater and to "bring home the bacon" in the East Tennessee Oratorical Contest at Milligan and the Tennessee Oratorical Contest at Carson-Newman this spring.

The Season

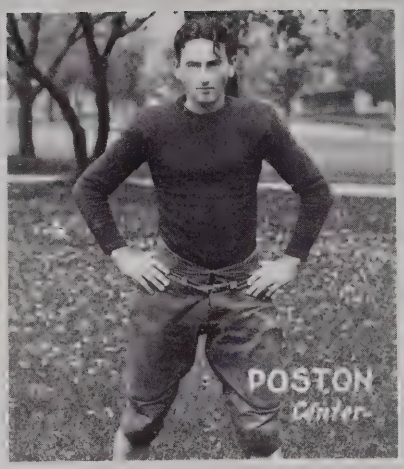

Last year Carson and Newman spectators looked forward with frail hopes to this year's football team. Although they realized that the school was securing an excellent coach, they realized, too, that prospects for this year would be few and also disconnected. It is a difficult task for a coach with the ability possessed by Coach Holt with a career staring him in the face and with vain hopes of anything near an approaching success to receive the reins of a football team and find that his best horses have disappeared.

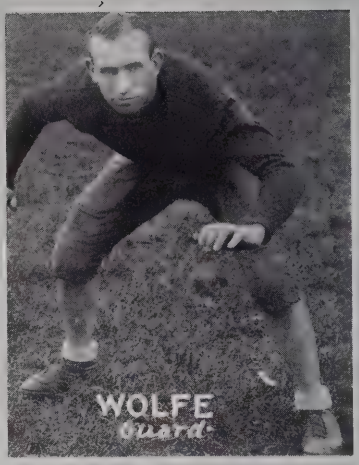

Coach Holt arrived on the scene with a willing spirit and an unconquerable determination. "We may not have a veteran team, but we will have a team that will be a credit to our material," are the words that the coach's face expressed. From last year's squad, which numbered about twenty-six, eight were enrolled this year; just four of these were lettermen,—Bowman, Ward, Sewell, and Wolfe. Poston and Waters, who were not in school last year, but who were on the squad the year previous, returned, and they proved to be valuable material. Combs, who was not given a chance last year, showed the fans that he could play football. "Wibb" was one of this year's most valuable men; he played more than any other member of the squad. He is a Jefferson City boy.

Carson and Newman had a Freshman team for the most part. From Illinois came Max Allen. Max was one of the best tackles in the conference, but because of a light backfield, he was shifted to fullback. Kelly, who played the other tackle, but who was transferred to center, was also a good man. If you had never seen these Freshmen in the beginning and at the close of the season, you surely would compliment Coach Holt. C. N. C. plans to see Horace Lawson and Roy Henley prove to be two of the best tackles she has ever had. "War Horse" Lawson was like a brick wall draped with Orange and Blue colors. Jimmie Iddins and John Corban proved to be the pilots of the team. Though each was a Freshman, either possessed all the qualities needed for a general.

Captain Ward, one of the star backfield men, having been injured in the beginning of the season, was for the greater part of the year a loss to the squad. Joe Sewell was a hard-working veteran. Joe deserves much credit for the loads which he carried in supporting the Orange and Blue. "Coach" found some good material in Zeb Gambill, Bob Howard, and Wix Manley. This year's graduating class claims but two letter men, Bowman and Waters, but they were part of the nucleus of the team.

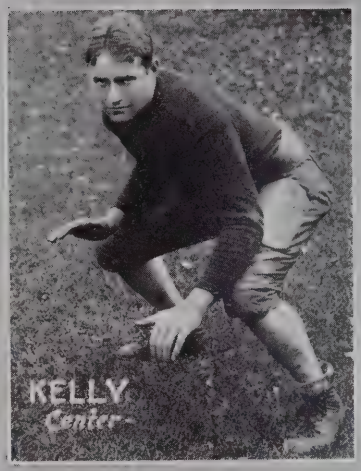

Good prospects were few, but out of these "Coach" developed two good teams, difficult to distinguish in ability. The boys averaging about one hundred sixty pounds, were handicapped by weight, but their size did not prevent their laboring and struggling like "Old Ironsides" to support their colors as best they could. They played a hard schedule which included Tennessee and the University of Kentucky. If these two teams could compete with any of the other Southern teams, just imagine how a Freshman playing varsity ball would feel playing opposite big Drury, Kentucky tackle. A glance at the score book would suggest a failure for this year, but a glance at the schedule, at the prospects, and at conditions in general, would not spell anything less than success.

The number of awards this year exceeds in number those of several years. Nineteen letters were granted, and the majority of players received their first letters. Those to receive the C. N. were Roy Henley, Harold Wolfe, Judson Harwood, Wix Manley, John Corban, Ownby Bowman, Roger Ward, Jack Poston, John Taylor, Zeb Gambill, Max Allen, Wayne Waters, Joe Sewell, Wilbur Combs, Jimmie Iddins, Forrest Kelley, Horace Lawson, Bob Howard, and Guy Buckner.

Brave on, O' ye warriors,
Carry high the Orange and Blue;
Success comes to those who are toilers,
So to your college ever be true.

My Annual and I Grow Old

At close of day the sunset's found me;
And shadows steal around me,
A-musing now in the firelight blaze
Of those dear friends of other days,
As I backward look.

My hair is gray, my eyes are blurred,
Yet something keeps my mem'ry stirred;
I think today of other years,
And smiles creep out in spite of tears,
And I close the book.

The thousandth time I've looked it o'er,
But each time means a little more;
Though college days have long been gone,
With me they still live on and on,
Till my days are closing.

The book slips softly from my hands,
As classmates left for other lands;
My daughter, tall, and strong, and fair,
Steals up behind my old armchair,
And finds me dozing.

In Manner of Emphasis:

No class room work stands for long unless it can justify itself in practical application. The practical test rather than the theoretical test is "The Southwestern" emphasis.

In Type of Organization:

"Greater Seminary" consists of four schools federated as a great university. Their courses are so intermingled and the association of the student body are so interwoven that the most balanced training is insured. The emphasis everywhere is on the Bible—Evangelism and Missions.

Headquarters for the "Fighting Parsons" when in Bristol

We think of nothing better to say to you than what Edgar A. Guest has said in his poem.

"The Things That Haven't Been Done Before"

The things that haven't been done before,
These are the things to try;
Columbus dreamed of an unknown shore
At the rim of the far-flung sky,
And his heart was bold and his faith was strong
As he ventured in dangers new,
And he paid no heed to the jeering throng
Or the fears of the doubting crew.

The many will follow the beaten track
With guideposts on the way,
They live and have lived for ages back
With a chart for every day.
Some one has told them it's safe to go
On the road he has traveled o'er
And all they ever strive to know
Are the things that were known before.

A few strike out, without map or chart,
Where never a man has been,
From the beaten paths they draw apart
To see what no man has seen.
There are deeds they hunger alone to do;
Though battered and bruised and sore,
They blaze the path for many, who
Do nothing not done before.

The things that haven't been done before
Are the tasks worth while today;
Are you one of the flock that follows, or
Are you one that shall lead the way?
Are you one of the timid souls that quail
At the jeer of a doubting crew,
Or dare you, whether you win or fail,
Strike out for a goal that's new?

Sincerely,

MINNIS & ZIRKLE

Lest Ye Forget

Lest Ye Forget

THE END

M.K. Howell '31.

To my Sweetheart - Katherine,

Honey, I sure enough feel like your best sweetheart since you've let me write in your annual first. "I" I wish I could start and tell you how much I love you Katherine, but if I were to I'd be writing for ever and never get it all told. Now after our little "spat" this afternoon you may not believe it, but honest and truly I love you even in the morning - at night - and then in between time.

Katherine, this summer when you're all by yourself and get lonesome just think of your pesky room mate and I know you'll laugh the rest of the summer. And don't forget how good we've been this year, 'cause if you should I never would forgive you. Just think - we living good nine whole months, and then you forget it. But I know you won't, 'cause you couldn't if you wanted to.

I shall never forget my first year rooming with you and Hazel - "I" but haven't we had fun too. Remember all those happy nights we spent last fall - truth parties, feasts, shoe fights, and other sports - ha - (other sports). They were such good sports we got all our lovely poems published in the College paper (who does that sound like? Can't you guess? - your second best sweetheart), and especially the one which was a reflection upon the rules of the college.

Now, lest you should forget Peanut Gallery I shall tell you to remember a little narrative about it. Remember nine "nervy" girls prancing up the hall at one - fifteen carrying their pillows in one hand and their quilts and blankets in the other. (Just the fresh air fiends). Katherine, I shall always love my sweetest sweetheart and good little roomie of 30. All love you for ever and ever, Clara.
